

Remote Learning Day Plan

Tuesday, May 24, 2022

PBIS: Pride, Attitude, Wise Choices, Safety

Create an illustration, poster, or book to demonstrate what New Prospect's PBIS expectations mean to you as a student. What do Pride, Attitude, Wise Choices, and Safety look like, sound like, and feel like? These artifacts will be used as displays and teaching tools at the beginning of the 2022-2023 school year.

Top Ten List: Highlights from the School Year

Develop a list of your Top Ten favorite events, activities, or things you learned from this school year. You can use words and pictures to represent your personal "highlights" from throughout the year.

Top Ten List: Wishes for Next School Year

Develop a list of your Top Ten wishes and/or goals for next school year. This list may include things you hope to accomplish next year or things you wish to improve upon.

Letter to a Future Student

Write a letter to a student in next year's class. Include responses to the questions below in your letter.

- What is the best part of your current grade level and class?
- What advice might you give him or her?
- What should he or she do in order to be successful in this class?
- How will what they learn help them?

Collaboration

Using the "End-of-Year Reflection" handout, engage in a discussion with your child(ren). These questions are a great opportunity to reflect on the school year and celebrate growth and achievements from this year. Enjoy reflecting and reminiscing about the school year with your child(ren)!

You do not need to write the answers to these questions down, but rather this is a chance for collaboration and discussion. 😊*

End of the Year Story

Choose one of the writing prompts below to compose an original story. Feel free to make a book and include illustrations!

- Thinking back on the school year, write a personal narrative describing your favorite memory and why it stood out amongst the other school days.
- It's the last day of school and you get locked in after everyone leaves. Write a story about what happens next.
- Imagine that you're an object in the classroom (i.e. desk, pencil sharpener, whiteboard, etc.), and write a story about the things that happened during the school year from the perspective of that object.
- Write a fictional story pretending that the school just announced that summer break has been canceled and the new school year will start next week.